

NRG Energy and Texas Genco Announce Early Termination of Hart-Scott-Rodino Waiting Period

November 11, 2005

PRINCETON, N.J. & HOUSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 11, 2005--NRG Energy Inc. (NYSE:NRG) and Texas Genco LLC today announced that on November 10, 2005, the Federal Trade Commission granted early termination of the antitrust waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act for the proposed acquisition by NRG of Texas Genco LLC.

Both companies continue to expect that this transaction will close during the first quarter of 2006. The transaction remains subject to customary closing conditions and regulatory approvals, including approval from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

NRG Energy, Inc. owns and operates a diverse portfolio of more than 15,000 MW of power-generating facilities, primarily located in the Northeast, South Central and Western regions of the United States. Its operations include baseload, intermediate, peaking, and cogeneration facilities, thermal energy production and energy resource recovery facilities. NRG also has ownership interests in generating facilities in Australia and Germany.

Texas Genco is one of the largest wholesale electric power generating companies in the United States, providing safe, reliable and competitively priced electricity. The company seeks to lead the nation in operational excellence for independent power producers. Texas Genco owns approximately 11,000 MW of net operating generation capacity. The company sells power and related services in Texas' largest power market, ERCOT.
