—Philadelphians can now bundle plans with new choices, convenience and reliability—

PHILADELPHIA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 16, 2016-- Two sources of energy and one company that supplies them. That's the convenience Philadelphia-based energy supplier NRG offers area residents with its new natural gas and electricity bundle options, backed by NRG Energy (NYSE:NRG), the nation's largest independent power producer.

The NRG electricity and natural gas plans provide a wide array of choices and benefits that fit every consumer's budget and lifestyle, including predictable fixed-price electricity plans, cash back, and rewards programs. As the official energy provider of the Philadelphia Eagles, NRG customers in Philadelphia also can choose the Eagles Fan Plan, which features official Eagles merchandise.

"When it comes to your home, energy plans are not and should not be one size fits all," said Mike Starck, general manager, NRG Retail East. "With our new natural gas and electricity plan offerings, we extend our promise to power our customer's lives and deliver convenient solutions that fit them perfectly."

For years NRG has powered homes and small businesses in Pennsylvania. With this expansion of natural gas service for customers in Philadelphia Gas Works' territory, NRG's combined electricity and natural gas plans are available to almost all Philadelphia area customers and throughout Pennsylvania.

Electricity and natural gas bundle plans vary depending on where you live in the Commonwealth. Different options include the Renewable Plan with 100% wind-generated energy, Goal Zero portable power products, and 100% carbon-offset natural gas; the Cash Back Plan; and other innovative energy solutions. The process of switching is easy. New customers contact NRG to sign up for a plan, receive a confirmation that the switch is complete, and then begin earning rewards.
