- Customers can create healthier tomorrows for children simply by paying their electric bill -

BOSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 15, 2017-- NRG today formally unveiled a new partnership with Boston Children's Hospital as part of its Choose to Give program, which allows NRG customers to support local nonprofits through their electricity plan.

Under this plan, NRG contributes $50 to Boston Children's Hospital for every customer that enrolls, approximately one month after enrollment. In addition, NRG will contribute one percent of each customer's electricity supply charges to Boston Children's Hospital annually for as long as the customer remains on the plan. Besides helping our children's health, those who enroll will also get the peace of mind that comes with locking in a predictable electricity supply price for 12 months.

Boston Children's Hospital, one of the leading pediatric hospitals in the U.S., is the first nonprofit in Massachusetts to partner in the program and to receive contributions from NRG.

"We are so grateful for the generosity of NRG," said Carola Cadley, Vice President, Corporate Development and Special Events, Boston Children's Hospital Trust. "Every dollar contributed through their program has 100% impact, furthering the hospital's mission to treat all children, no matter what condition they face."

"Boston Children's Hospital is absolutely vital to the health and well-being of children and families across the region and beyond," said Mike Starck, NRG general manager and Boston native. "We are proud to offer our customers a simple way to support the great work done by the doctors, nurses, and staff at Boston Children's Hospital."

The Choose to Give program first launched in 2016 to Pennsylvania customers, benefiting several regional nonprofits including Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.
